56. Legislation called the "Employee Free Choice Act" has been proposed in Congress that would make it easier for workers to join and form unions. Currently, when a majority of employees at a company sign cards to form a union the company can require that an election be held. This legislation would change the system so that once a majority of employees sign authorization cards, the company must recognize the union, with no election held. This process is called "majority sign-up." What is your reaction to this proposal – very favorable, somewhat favorable, somewhat unfavorable, or very unfavorable?
